Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 25 June 2008.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

- 4) ☒ Claim(s) 1 and 3-10 is/are pending in the application.

DETAILED ACTION

Status of Claims

1. Claims 1 and 3-7 are currently under examination, wherein claims 1, 3, 5 and 6 have been amended in applicant's amendment filed on May 20, 2008. The original claim 2 has been cancelled by the applicant in the same reply. The non-elected claims 8-10 have been withdrawn, wherein claims 8 and 9 have been amended in the same reply.

Applicant's election with traverse of Invention I, Claims 1-7 in the reply filed on May 20, 2008 is acknowledged. The traverse is on the ground(s) that Snodgrass et al. (US 4,444,740) does not disclose a method substantially identical to the method of the instant claim 1. This is not found persuasive. As stated in the Office action dated February 21, 2008, Snodgrass et al. ('740) discloses a method of treating a spent potliner (abstract), which is substantially identical to the claimed method of treating the spent potliner in the process steps as claimed. The intended use of the residual of Snodgrass et al. ('740) does not have to be the same as that of the instant invention.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Status of Previous Rejections

2. The previous rejections of claims 1 and 3-7 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gamson et al. (US 4,355,017) in view of Snodgrass et al. (US 4,444,740) as stated in the Office action dated February 21, 2008 have been maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 1793

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1 and 3-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gamson et al. ('017) in view of Snodgrass et al. ('740) as stated in the Office action dated February 21, 2008.

With respect to the amended features of claim 1, the function of mixing the heated spent potliner with water in the process of Gamson et al. ('017) is inherently the same as the function of mixing the heated spent potliner in the claimed method of the instant invention. Snodgrass et al. ('740) discloses blending the treated ash residue with other chemicals and minerals to provide useful mineral products (col. 2, lines 35-58 and Figure 1).

With respect to the amended features of claims 2, 5 and 6, they do not change the scopes of the claims. Therefore, the reasons for the rejections as stated in the Office action dated February 21, 2008 are applied properly herein.

Response to Arguments

4. The applicant's arguments filed on May 20, 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

First, the applicant argues that instead and unlike the cited references, the instant invention keeps the important constituents such as fluorine and carbon in the residual. In response, the examiner notes that as stated in the Office action dated

February 21, 2008, the method of treating a spent potliner after use in an aluminum smelting process of Gamson et al. ('017) in view of Snodgrass et al. ('740) meets all the claim limitations of the method of the instant invention as claimed. Therefore, the remaining contents of fluorine and carbon in the residual of Gamson et al. ('017) in view of Snodgrass et al. ('740) would be substantially identical to those of the instant invention.

Second, the applicant argues that nowhere does Snodgrass et al. ('740) teach or suggest blending the cured residual with other chemicals and minerals to provide useful mineral products as required in the instant Claim 1. In response, the examiner notes Snodgrass et al. ('740) discloses blending the water-treated ash residue with other chemicals and minerals (e.g. diluted sulfuric acid and lime) to provide mineral products (e.g. calcium fluoride) (col. 2, lines 35-58 and Figure 1), which reads on the claim limitations. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art that the product of Gamson et al. ('017) in view of Snodgrass et al. ('740) is a useful product which can be used at least as landfill.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 1793

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
